

THE BEGINNING OF TIME

By Gary Lee Vincent
© 1996

The earth was dark in the beginning of time
But soon a light began to shine.
A dome appeared from way up high
This dome was to be known as sky.

Land and ocean began to form
And from the dry ground trees were born.
The seasons changed within two lights
One for day, and one for night.

The oceans filled with creatures and their numbers were high
Just as there were many types of birds to fill the sky.
Mankind was created to rule over the land
To help control the sky, the oceans and the sand.

The days had numbered six
This vision was from God.
And on the seventh day He rested . . .
Miracles from sod!

Gary Lee Vincent
14 Kessla Way
Shinnston, WV 26431
(603) 250-2394