

The Judas and The Sinner

Written by Gary Lee Vincent

© 1994

Have you ever hated a person so badly
That you would like to see him shamed?
And find one's deepest, darkest secrets
For the sake of personal gain

Is the gauntlet for revenge?
Or is it just for fun?
To race with anger in Hell's half acre
Just to say you run

To hurt a friend who stole your heart
As many often do
To be labeled as a Judas
For the slander that you threw

"I like to tell the world," you say
"I only speak the truth"
The deepest, darkest secrets
Will always tell on you

Yes, a person does have faults
And often is to blame
For sins of greed and lust for gold
But is honorable just the same

So let's defame the sinner
Let every being know
Let's run a sword into his back
And kick him when he's low

Have your day of glory
But remember your own sins
And tell the world your story
Why you are better than him.

Gary Lee Vincent
14 Kessler Way
Shinnston, WV 26431
(603) 250-2394